PRESIDENT-ELECT MURMU

Registers thumping victory with 64% of polled votes; to take oath on Monday

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

DROUPADI Murmu on Thursday became the first tribal woman to be elected the country's president as she bagged 64% of the total votes polled. She will take her oath of office on July 25. Prime Minister Narendra Modi drove to her residence to felicitate her on the huge victory.

Murmu will succeed Ram Nath Kovind to become India's 15th President. Her candidature saw division in the Opposition ranks with some non-NDA parties like Jharkhand Mukti Morcha and Biju Janata Dal, extending support.

Opposition candidate Yashwant Sinha gracefully conceded defeat. Of the total 10,56,980 polled, Murmu got 6,76,803 while Sinha got 3,80,177. Sinha failed to get any vote from Andhra Pradesh, Sikkim and Nagaland.

The outcome indicated cross-voting with reports of 17 MPs and around 104 MLAs from non-NDA parties voting for her. Cross-voting was reported mainly from states having sizable tribal populations — Assam, Gujarat, Madhya Pradesh, Maharashtra, Jharkhand and Chhattisgarh.

Murmu established an early lead after votes of Rajya Sabha and Lok Sabha members were counted.

Of the 748 valid votes, she got 540, while Sinha bagged 208. With each MP having a vote value of 700 in this presidential election, Murmu received a total of 5,23,600 votes, which translated to 72.19% of the valid votes of parliamentarians.

"India scripts history. At a time when 1.3 billion Indians are marking Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav, a daughter of India hailing from a tribal community born in a remote part of eastern India has been elected our president," Modi tweeted.

The BJP has called a meeting of chief ministers and deputy CMs from party ruled states on July 24, a day before Murmu's oath-taking ceremony. Sources said the party plans to make it a big event with countrywide celebrations.

After Murmu took the lead, celebrations started in her native place in Odisha. At her village, over 20,000 ladoos were distributed amid drum-beating and traditional tribal dance.

Born on June 20, 1958, in Odisha's Rairangpur, Murmu is the first President to be born after Independence.

ED grills Sonia amid party protest

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

AMID protests by Congress workers, the Enforcement Directorate (ED) on Thursday questioned Congress president Sonia Gandhi, 75, for the first time in the National Herald case. She has been asked to appear again on July 25.

Sonia was questioned for about three hours. Priyanka Gandhi Vadra stayed on the ED premises to help her mother with medicines due to her post-Covid complications.

The Congress chief was asked about her involvement in the Young Indian's takeover of Associated Journals Limited (AJL), the company that runs National Herald. Most questions pertained to her shareholding and taxes, how AJL and Young Indian are linked, and the association of the Congress with the companies.

The day's questioning ended on Sonia's request, officials said, but party leaders Jairam Ramesh and P Chidambaram rebutted, saying it was the ED that said they had no further questions. Ramesh tweeted that Sonia was willing to respond to any further queries and was prepared to stay on till 8-9 pm if necessary. Sonia's son Rahul Gandhi was questioned for over 50 hours across five days by the ED in the same case.

Describing it as political vendetta, the Congress convened an Opposition meeting to amplify its protest. Leaders from 13 parties attended. "Prominent leaders of a number of political parties have been deliberately targeted and subjected to harassment in an unprecedented manner. We condemn this and resolve to continue and intensify our collective fight against the anti-people, anti-farmer, anti-Constitution policies," a joint statement after the meeting said.

Ex-Speaker's comments land Cong in a spot

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

ON a day when Congress leaders and workers across India hit the streets in protests against the alleged misuse of Central agencies, former Karnataka Assembly Speaker Ramesh Kumar's comments about his party leaders "making enough for three to four generations in the name of Nehru, Indira Gandhi and Sonia Gandhi", landed the party in an embarrassing spot.

Addressing party workers during a protest against the Enforcement Directorate (ED) summoning AICC president Sonia Gandhi for questioning in the National Herald case, the senior Congress leader said, ''We have made enough for three to four generations in the name of Nehru, Indira Gandhi and Sonia Gandhi. Now we have to be ready to make some sacrifices." CONTINUED ON: P6

Panel for 33% quota to OBCs in local bodies

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE two-member Justice Bhaktavatsala Commission has recommended 33 per cent reservation for OBCs in urban and local bodies.

The Commission, headed by Justice Bhaktavatsala, former Karnataka High Court judge, and retired IAS officer C R Chikkamath submitted its report to Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai here on Thursday.

The aggregation of the reservation of seats in favour of SC/ST/OBCs should not exceed 50 per cent of total seats, the Commission suggested.

Justice Bhaktavatsala Commission arrived at a conclusion to fix 33 per cent quota for the OBCs on the basis of data from local body elections held in 1996, 2001, 2010 and 2015, which indicated that the communities which come under Category-A and B of OBCs are still socially and politically backward.

The government is likely to submit the Commission's report to the Supreme Court on Friday as the apex court had set a deadline of eight weeks to complete the ward delimitation process in BBMP. CONTINUED ON: P6

No BBMP Council: MLAs, MPs turn 'super councillors'

Administration goes on but citizens' voice is not heard: Civic experts

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @Bengaluru

WHEN Bengaluru is battered by a merciless monsoon, citizens can reach the BBMP only through its call centre. This is the third consecutive year that the state capital does not have an elected body, after the Council term ended in September 2020.

Now, with the Bhaktavatsala Committee submitting its report on political reservation in local body elections, the long-pending BBMP polls appear to be one step closer. However, many hurdles need to be addressed, including the lack of political will.

It is not the first time the city administration has no elected Council — a similar situation prevailed from 2007 to 2010. Civic evangelist V Ravichandar, who was part of the BBMP Restructuring Committee, told TNIE that BBMP elections are a sign that we believe in democracy. "An elected body represents our faith in democracy in the urban local body," he said.

Srinivas Alavilli from Janaagraha says that in Bengaluru, there are only three polls – Lok Sabha, Assembly and BBMP. "Can we imagine a state or city without MLAs or MPs for two or three years? Councillors represent citizens. Our voice is not heard in the Council, but gets approved. There are many issues to be debated. The government wants to have a hold and the chief minister (or ministers) want to be super-mayors, which is not right," he said.

Alavilli said that the role and responsibilities of MLAs and MPs are different from councillors, but MLAs are acting like super councillors. "We can't go to MLAs or MPs to resolve civic issues," he added.

As per Article 243U of the Constitution, the State government and State Election Commission have to hold local body polls before its term ends. But the government constituted a Joint Select Committee which recommended 243 wards and the BBMP Bill was passed in December 2020. The process of delimitation started last year.

Questioning the delay, former councillors went to the High Court, which directed the State government to conduct elections at the earliest, but it approached the Supreme Court. Since then, the court has been issuing orders, with the latest one in May that a notification be issued on delimitation of BBMP wards within eight weeks. According to this, the government has to submit the update on Friday.

Karnataka State Election Commission commissioner S Basavaraj said they are ready to hold polls any time.

Once the committee recommendations are accepted, constituency/ward based reservation list will be announced, but if it's caught in any legal hurdles, it can be delayed further. He said they prepared an electoral list for 198 wards and need one month's time to make it for 243 wards. Interestingly, MLAs and MPs are not in the mood for BBMP polls. "They are focused on 2023 Assembly polls and 2024 Lok Sabha polls," said a senior BJP leader.

Thunder, lightning forecast for 2 days

BBMP workers clear a tree uprooted due to rain in Vasanthnagar | VINOD KUMAR

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE India Meteorological Department has issued a thunder and lightning warning for the next two days for Bengaluru. It has also issued a yellow alert for the city on Friday.

According to IMD officials, the city received 8 cm (82.6 mm) rain from Wednesday midnight to Thursday early morning, and recorded a maximum temperature of 30.8 degrees Celsius and minimum temperature of 20.5 degree. Officials said the heavy rainfall was due to heat and humid conditions.

Officials said yellow alert means there is no danger, but an indication of heavy rain up to 7 cm.

According to the Karnataka State Disaster Monitoring Center, Sampangi Ramanagar in Bengaluru East Zone received the highest rainfall of 81. 5 mm rainfall on Wednesday midnight to till Thursday early morning. The rain started from 11 pm and lashed through the night due to which several roads and underpasses were flooded.

Odour, flies — locals fume over BBMP waste unit

MOHAMMED YACOOB @Bengaluru

THE residents of Banashankari 6th phase in Hemmigepura ward have decided to lay siege to the Karnataka State Pollution Control Board (KSPCB) office as their repeated demands to shut the waste processing unit at Lingadheeranahalli are not being addressed.

The residents say the 150-tonne capacity waste processing unit was reopened following the Supreme Court's directive a few months ago and the BBMP started sending tonnes of waste for processing.

"The smell is unbearable. House flies are all over. It is disgusting to see them inside the kitchen and on the dining table. The flies sit on food. We have children and aged persons at home. We are exposed to health hazards. Last week, we met KSPCB chairman Shantha Thimmaiyya. He said BBMP has been told to follow 29 conditions including odour control but that is not happening. The areas have about 4,000 homes and all are impacted. If the issue is not resolved within 15 days, we will protest in front of KSPCB office," said T S Mahesha, president, Resident Welfare Association, BSK 6th stage.

The residents gathered near the plant and raised slogans against the BBMP on Thursday. KSPCB chairman Shantha Thimmaiyya was not available for comment The BBMP says the plant was shut for three years and the Palike got the NGT stay vacated from SC and restarted the plant. "There is no bad odour or issue of house flies. The residents and a few people who have sites here fear that the real estate market value was going down due to the presence of the plant. Now that the case is coming up for hearing in the Supreme Court, these people are raising the issue," said a senior official at BBMP's SWM Department.

GLOBAL awareness on India's space capabilities is increasing and the country's technological prowess is well recognised by the international community, said Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) Chairman S Somanath on Thursday. The ISRO chairman was speaking at the inauguration of Human Space Flight Centre's (HSFC) first-ever outreach programme -- the Human Space Flight Expo -- at the Jawaharlal Nehru Planetarium.

"Times are changing and awareness about what we are doing globally is increasing. Our technology, economic power and handling of complex issues are well recognised and we must not lose sight of what we as a nation can achieve in the future," Somanath said.

The expo, which will be open to the public from Friday to Sunday, is being in collaboration with the planetarium and the Bangalore Association for Science Education (BASE).

The expo features a number of exhibits, including scaled models of various Indian satellites and launch vehicles as well as a scaled model of the proposed India Space Station. The expo also includes an interactive model of the Gaganyaan, the first Indian crewed spacecraft, which is slated to launch soon.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

22nd July: OK, get this: I am designating today as a Leonine day. This means that whatever your individual sign says, there's another level of reality in which we can all become lively Leos, adventurous, proud, creative, glamorous, colourful, theatrical, artistic and generous. That just about covers all eventualities!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Mars, planet of assertion and energy, encourages a high-spending mentality. General conditions are genuinely prosperous and profitable, but it's up to you to pick the offers that provide real rewards and avoid those which could lead you up a blind alley. It's all in the small print!

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
You are not known as an impatient or intolerant person, but you do have your belligerent side. It's not that I think arguments are wrong that I advise caution now, but since it looks as if you may go off at half-cock, you could actually make matters worse. Stay cool and make things better!

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Business influences loom large. We're talking about commitments in the order of large purchases, domestic outlay and even property acquisitions. Overall, it's not a time for bargains. Your extravagant tendencies extend towards partnership proposals, and a lavish gesture could secure your ends.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Look forward beyond immediate strains and see that your innate charm and personal grace are your biggest joint asset. Be confident and realise that, with a flutter of your eyelashes and a discreet wink, you can wrap almost anyone around your little finger.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
You are currently blessed with remarkable sensitivity and intuition. The only question is whether you can distinguish genuine perceptions from idle hopes, wishes and fears. This is not as easy as it sounds, especially as the facts seem to be shielded by a layer of fantasy.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
A colleague or business associate should be taken to task although, if legal questions are on the agenda, you may be motivated by the broad spirit rather than the precise letter of the law. In other words, you're after justice rather than revenge!

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
If you have been using finances as a lever to pressurise other people or have applied money as a means of emotional manipulation, then please take care. Any and all such devious actions may be about to blow up in your face. And that's precisely why you'd better play it straight.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
If you're undecided, then why don't you wait until after the weekend before taking a firm choice as to the next stage or phase of activity. Above all, remember that current planetary influences tend to make you impulsive, reckless and liable to go over the top.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
You have some very intense needs at the moment, like your desire to be understood for a start! You're also in an ambitious mood; self-motivation is all very well, but you may pick up the wrong end of the stick. Don't take secret fears and worries too seriously. For some reason, your imagination is trying to wind you up!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
It's an uneven moment and you're picking up mixed messages from close partners. Even if all is sweetness and light there are rumblings of discontent. If you are able, you must be flexible with people who deserve your consideration, but firm with those who do not.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
You may feel pulled in two directions, not necessarily a bad thing. You'll re-examine your choices and review all outstanding options. Over the coming days, home and family, emotion and intellect, imagination and practicality will appear as irreconcilable. The truth, however, may point in a different direction.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You may have become accustomed to being used as a sounding board for other people's complaints and problems. Possibly you should tell partners and colleagues to stop whingeing and get on with their lives. But do so in a way which doesn't offend unnecessarily.

THE PHANTOM

YOU'VE CHANGED.... I SAW IT IN YOU THE MOMENT I ARRIVED.

8 booked for raping minor

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mangaluru

MANGALURU city police have booked 8 students of a reputed PU college in the coastal city on the charges of gang rape of a minor girl.

The incident came to light after videos of the act went viral following which the police launched a probe into the incident.

On Thursday, the victim also lodged a complaint against the eight students accusing them of gang-raping her in a PG accommodation located near the college. City Police Commissioner N Shashi Kumar told media persons that the incident took place in January this year and the students allegedly raped the girl on different occasions.

Police are checking whether the accused were minor or major when the incident took place.

Based on a viral video in which one of the accused was seen kissing the victim, the police secured and interrogated him on Thursday.

When they checked his mobile phone, they found a video of him raping the girl and also video-recording the act.

The commissioner said two of the accused had rented a room in the apartment. But within two months, they were asked to vacate after the owner found them consuming alcohol inside the room. The gang rape took place in these two months. A few days ago, the college had suspended some of the accused students after one of the accused posted the kissing video in the WhatsApp group of his class. The accused told the college disciplinary committee that the kissing was part of the 'truth and dare' game.

The accused have been booked under sections 376, 354, 354(C), 120(B) of IPC and sections 4, 8, 12, 13, 17 of POCSO Act and section 66(E), 67 of the IT Act 2008. The police commissioner urged parents to keep a track on their students and their activities and behaviour.

Dy Tahsildar Mahesh's bail plea dismissed

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Thursday dismissed bail petition filed by Deputy Tahsildar PS Mahesh, accused in the DC office case, "as not pressed", in view of default bail granted by the sessions court in city, since the Anti Corruption Bureau (ACB) has not filed final report within 60 days.

Mahesh, an assistant to the then DC of Bengaluru Urban District, J Manjunath, who was also arrested in the case, was in custody after being arrested by the ACB.

When the bail plea was taken up for hearing in the morning session, the court was informed that the sessions court granted default bail to Mahesh. The court orally observed what is the purpose of the ACB? Why a final report was not filed within prescribed time? This court will have to order inquiry into the conduct of the investigation officer, the court added.

The counsel for the petitioner filed a memo stating the default bail has been granted in favour of the petitioner by a regular court.

Platform for enhanced drug delivery

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

SYNERGIA Biosciences has developed a nano-emulsion intra-nasal platform for enhanced drug delivery to the central nervous system. Nasal drugs are considered to be more effective as it bypasses the first-pass metabolism.

At a round table discussion organised by Synergia Foundation on Thursday, various points like the formulation, benefits, scalability and patenting process were discussed. Tobby Simon, founder, Synergia, said their model is cost-effective and once they scale up, it would cost around ₹90 and can last up to 6-8 months.

Intranasal would allow direct absorption of drugs to the brain as it has major neuro transmissions, said Sambhratta Shetty, COO, Synergia. A nasal spray is more potent and would need a small dosage, explained Simon. Dr Kamal Prasad, neurosurgeon and a panelist, said that it is helpful for patients, especially those on ventilators. "There is a social resistance against other vaccines or intra-muscular drugs. A nasal spray is well accepted," Dr Gifty Immanuel said.

CONG PROTESTS OVER ED GRILLING SONIA, CALLS GOVT 'VINDICTIVE'

Leaders, workers condemn questioning of party president by ED, set own cars ablaze

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

IT was a fiery protest by the Congress in Bengaluru on Thursday, with visibly angry Youth Congress leaders, in a clear act of arson, torching their own cars to protest against the Enforcement Directorate (ED) questioning AICC President Sonia Gandhi, in an alleged money laundering case in the National Herald case.

Former CM Siddaramaiah, KPCC president DK Shivakumar and other senior leaders marched from the Congress office on Queen's Road to Freedom Park, where they held a protest and criticised the "vindictive and tyrannical" government for "using the ED to harass Ms Sonia Gandhi".

Congress workers set ablaze two cars at two places during the protests – one at Nehru Circle in Seshadripuram and the other near the ED office in Shanthinagar in Wilson Garden.

On Friday, the protests will spread to the districts. Just a couple of weeks ago, the party had hit the streets when former party president Rahul Gandhi was questioned by the ED. This time, they are ready for a long-drawn battle.

KPCC president DK Shivakumar tries to balance atop the barricades with the help of his party workers during a protest | SHRIRAM BN

Senior leaders Siddaramaiah, Shivakumar, B K Hariprasad and others slammed the Union government for "weaponising and misusing central agencies" to harass opposition leaders, especially the Gandhis. Party leaders declared that the protests would continue till their party supremo is stopped being tortured by the BJP. Shivakumar demanded that the government release a video recording of the questioning.

Opposition leader in the Upper House Mallikarjun Kharge tweeted, "Congress has always been at the forefront of fighting tyranny, and our party President Sonia Gandhi ji has fought & stood strong against innumerable odds she has faced in life."

"Sonia Gandhi and Rahul Gandhi are being harassed on the pretext of an ED inquiry which is not just an injustice to the Congress but a threat to the Constitution and democracy itself," read Siddaramaiah's tweet. Rejuvenated Congress cadres, mostly from the Seva Dal and Youth Congress, chanted slogans condemning the ED's action, which they termed "vengeful and unnecessary".

Police act against arsonists

Police detained 11 suspects and arrested five of them in connection with the Shanthinagar case. A group, including a woman holding the Congress flag, torched the car and created panic near the ED office. Police said it was a planned act, as both cars were driven to the spots and set on fire in the midst of the public. Police are checking the ownership details of the vehicles.

Meanwhile, traffic came to halt on Sheshadri Road, KR Circle, Ambedkar Veedhi and other connecting roads as party workers took to the streets.

BJP: Remark vindicates belief of exploitation

THE former Speaker went on to say that "if you (Congressmen) are not ready for this small sacrifice, there will be worms in the rice you eat."

The former Speaker made the shocking remarks at a rally attended by state Congress president D K Shivakumar, former chief ministers Siddaramaiah and M Veerappa Moily, and a large number of party leaders and workers.

The ruling BJP leaders were quick to hit out by terming Congress as the party of corrupt leaders, and pointing out that Kumar's statement only vindicated their belief that the Congress party had exploited the country over decades for their own benefit. "I congratulate Ramesh Kumar for speaking the truth. His remarks show to what extent Congress leaders looted the country, and now they have admitted to their crime," said Revenue Minister R Ashoka. "If they talk about 40 per cent corruption, they will be referring to corruption by Congress leaders," he said, referring to the Contractors Association allegations about 40 per cent corruption in the state administration.Former chief minister B S Yediyurappa took a jibe at Ramesh Kumar saying they are very happy that Congress leaders have admitted that they have made enough for three to four generations.

Congress workers set ablaze a car at Shantinagar in Bengaluru on Thursday

The BJP state unit took to social media to slam Congress, saying Ramesh Kumar's comments exposed the party's true colours at a time when it was preparing for the Bharat Jodo Yatra. Trying their best to fight the embarrassment, a few Congress leaders reacted to Kumar's statements, terming them as his "personal remarks".

Meanwhile, two cars were set ablaze during the protests at different places in Bengaluru by Youth Congress workers. One car was torched at Nehru Circle in Seshadripuram while the other was near the ED office in Shantinagar in Wilson Garden area.

The cars were driven to both the spots from elsewhere and torched at the protest venues. The police are checking on the ownership details of the cars and will register a case against them. Meanwhile, traffic was thrown out of gear near Freedom Park on Seshadri Road, K R Road and other connecting roads.

If SC gives nod, K'taka can go ahead with polls

IF the top court accepts the report, as it has accepted the Maharashtra government's report and allowed 27% reservation for OBCs in that state on Wednesday, it will pave the way for Karnataka government to go ahead with the polls which are due for BBMP and local bodies.

"As per the data of four elections held for the local bodies, the quota did not exceed 50% in BBMP and it is identical for the state. Without affecting the 18% of the SC/STs quota, the 50% ceiling could be maintained by adjusting within the 33% quota of the OBCs by eliminating the creamy layer within these communities", Justice Bhaktavatasala told TNIE.

In one of the four key suggestions, the Commission has asked to consider amendment to Section 10 of the Karnataka Municipal Corporation Act 1976 regarding term of office of mayor and deputy mayor for 30 months, which is 12 months now, as provided in the case of mayor and deputy mayor of BBMP, under the BBMP Act, 2020. The other suggestions include considering providing reservation of office of mayor and deputy mayor in BBMP in favour of persons belonging to OBCs.

RAGHOTTAM KOPPAR @ Gadag

GADAG has bagged the top spot in the state in the implementation of Jal Jeevan Mission (JJM), followed by Dharwad, Mandya, and Dakshina Kannada district.

The success of the project has been attributed to the immense support from villagers to the Implementation Supporting Agency (ISA). While Gadag district achieved 97.84 per cent implementation of the JJM project, Dharwad saw 95.37 per cent, Mandya 77.55 per cent, Dakshina Kannada 75.86 per cent, and Koppal 75.66 percent.

Ameer Nayak, panchayat development officer from Abbigeri said: "Some villagers opposed the project but later they were persuaded. Now, almost all households have water connections, and we will complete the work by this weekend".

Anand, executive engineer of JJM project, said: "We thank the villagers, GP staff, PDOs and ISA team. We would have completed 100 per cent work but as Ron and Shirahatti taluk are bigger, it is taking time". Belagavi, Gadag, Hubbali or Dharwad region was chosen for Jaljeevan Mission in Phase-1. When I was DC Rural earlier, 800 villages were already surveyed. Now in all these regions, tender process will begin soon, said K Srinivas Bengaluru Urban DC.

IN a strategic move, state Congress leaders are organising meetings and interactions between former AICC president Rahul Gandhi and various professional groups during his 23-day Bharat Jodo Yatra in Karnataka.

The campaign in Karnataka will start from Gundlupet, pass through Mandya, the central districts and Ballari. Rahul will walk about 350km through the state with Karnataka Congress leaders.

KPCC Working President Saleem Ahmed, who is also part of the Bharat Jodo Organising Committee, told TNIE that Gandhi and Congress leaders from Karnataka will be holding meetings and interactions twice a day, in the afternoons and evenings.

"We are choosing sector-wise groups, including farmers, labourers, youths, students, unemployed people, women and other sectors. We will listen to their woes, we want to know their perspective," he said. This information will be used in their manifesto, as it will be first-hand feedback from the people, he added.

Saleem said that during the yatra, they will also speak about how the BJP governments -- both State and Central -- have formulated anti-people laws that are causing distress to the public. "By covering the population sector-wise, we are making an attempt to cover all the people. We want to listen to every one, right down to the last person," he added. According to him, at any given time, around 10,000 people will be walking with Gandhi and other leaders.

"We are not playing the caste or community card, that does not work all the time. The intention of this campaign is to reach people from all castes and communities, unlike caste-based meetings, as we can reach more people here. When a person like Rahul Gandhi comes to their village or town, we want people to connect with us and Gandhi," he said.

However, in the coming days, they will also convene community-based meetings, but not during Bharat Jodo campaign, Saleem said.

'Wartime BJP' ropes in pracharaks for '23 battle

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

AS the Karnataka elections draw close, the ruling BJP is intensifying preparations for the battle of 2023, carefully organising poll strategies on the political chessboard. A series of meetings is being held, and more effective performers are being brought in with the intervention of National General Secretaries BL Santhosh and Arun Singh.

In 2013, the BJP was crushed to third place because of serious organisational lapses, and is not prepared to repeat them.

State BJP General Secretary (Org) GV Rajesh, who was pracharak in Mysuru and Tumakuru, takes the place of another pracharak, Arun Kumar. Pracharaks are unmarried full-time workers of the RSS, who serve the BJP.

Sources said this will be the first in a series of appointments to key party positions. The other big change will be a new party president in place of Nalin Kumar Kateel, whose term comes to a close in August.

There is a strong indication that there will be a new president and team of office-bearers soon.

The clear frontrunners for president are Shobha Karandlaje, CT Ravi and Sunil Kumar, in that order. As CM Bommai heads to Delhi for three days, there is talk of an imminent cabinet reshuffle and organizational revamp, which are expected to be discussed during his visit.

While Union Minister Shobha Karandlaje's advantage is that she is a Vokkaliga acceptable to both the Santhosh and Yediyurappa camps, National General Secretary CT Ravi is also a Vokkaliga and is close to the Santhosh camp, Power Minister Sunil Kumar comes from the backward Poojary community and is a non-controversial committed leader. G V Rajesh (32) a full-time RSS pracharak like BL Santhosh and Arun Kumar, hails from Dakshina Kannada. B Y Vijayendra is likely to be brought in as General Secretary and the previous team of general secretaries and other office-bearers is likely to change.

Lobbying peaks in BJP for MLC poll

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @ BENGALURU

WITH notification for election of a member of the Legislative Council (MLC) from the Assembly after the resignation of former Congress MLC CM Ibrahim, lobbying for the seat has already begun in the BJP.

The BJP with 121 MLAs is sure to bag the sole seat while names of party leaders and RSS loyalists are doing the rounds. Party loyalists including RSS second-rung leaders wish that former MLC Arun Shapura, who lost to the Congress' Prakash Hukkeri in the recently held north-east teachers' MLC polls, is back in the Upper House as he was a good debater. But former Karnataka minister Dr Gurupadappa Sanganabasappa Nagamarapalli's son Suryakanth G Nagamarpalli, and former Humabad MLA Subhash Kallur are also in the fray. Both are from Bidar district of Hyderabad-Karnataka region where the BJP wants to strengthen its base, sources said.

Among women, BJP Mahila Morcha president Geetha Vivekananda, and spokesperson C Manjula, former chairperson of the Karnataka State Women's Commission are the front runners. This time the party is likely to choose those who were disgruntled on missing out a chance, and any surprise move cannot be ruled out. The tenure of the newly elected MLC will end on June 17, 2024.

The BJP, if it wins, will improve its tally to 40 seats in the 75-member House which will ultimately help them to pass certain bills at ease with the majority.

MY PHONE WITH PROOF MISSING, SAYS SWAPNA

MLA Jaleel tried getting Malayalam daily banned in the Gulf, says gold scam accused

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Kochi

CASTING aspersions on the National Investigation Agency (NIA) which is probing the gold smuggling case, accused Swapna Suresh on Thursday alleged that her iPhone seized by the agency, containing chats and other details on Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan's role in the case, was missing.

In her affidavit filed in the Kerala High Court, Swapna claimed the phone was not listed in the seizure mahasar. She said the device contained proof that IAS officer M Sivasankar had told her about the Chief Minister requesting an NIA probe in the case, saying it would be easy to manipulate records as officers deputed to the agency were of Kerala cadre and were very close to the CM and his party.

Swapna filed the counter affidavit against the government's petition that opposed her plea to quash the FIR in the conspiracy case that was registered on the complaint filed by former minister KT Jaleel.

"I am planning to move legally to get all the details back from the phone," Swapna said, adding she had requested her counsel to file an application before the trial court for the same. She also alleged that the government filed the conspiracy case with the sole intention to derail the investigations by central agencies. It was under such circumstances that the Enforcement Directorate moved the Supreme Court recently to transfer the probe and trial of the case from Kerala to Karnataka. Swapna said the police's move to register and probe the conspiracy case against her aimed at torpedoing the ED probe.

Meanwhile, Swapna also accused MLA K T Jaleel of trying to get a Malayalam daily banned in the Gulf in a bid to get leverage in his party. "Jaleel had approached me with an edition of Madhyamam which had carried photographs of NRIs who died of Covid in the Gulf on the front page. He told me that the report should be used to get the newspaper banned, which, in turn, would give him leverage in the party," said Swapna. She said Jaleel also sent a letter to the then Sharjah ruler seeking a ban on the newspaper. According to Swapna, the letter said the report will "defame Arab rulers and citizens who have been showering benevolence and help on people across the globe, especially the citizens of Kerala, for centuries."

No CBI probe: Pinarayi

Kerala CM Pinarayi Vijayan on Thursday turned down the Opposition's demand in the assembly for a High Court-monitored CBI probe into charges of gold smuggling allegedly through diplomatic channel. The Opposition trooped to the well of the House in protest, and later boycotted proceedings after its demand, raised by Leader of the Opposition V D Satheesan was rejected.

Traffic on landslide-hit Shiradi stretch resumes

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Hassan

WITH rains subsiding, traffic on the Shiradi Ghat stretch of Bengaluru-Mangaluru National Highway 75 that was hit by landslides resumed from Thursday.

The decision was taken by the officials of National Highways Authorities of India (NHAI) following the directives of Deputy Commissioner R Girish. The DC, in his order, has directed the police to only allow light motor and passenger vehicles between 6 am and 6 pm. Movement of tankers, fish cargos, containers, long chassis vehicles, heavy commercial vehicles and multi-axle trucks are strictly banned until completion of repair works on the stretch. Emergency vehicles, including ambulance and fire-fighting vehicles, will be allowed 24x7. Sources said the stretch has been temporarily strengthened by placing sandbags on either sides where landslides occurred after clearing of debris. NHAI officials have been directed to install sign boards on either side of the stretch and also take measures to avoid accidents.

Movement of all types of vehicles was banned on the stretch after landslides were reported at Donigal last week.

Toll gate mishap: Driver of ambulance booked

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Udupi

IN connection with the Shiroor toll gate accident where four persons were killed on Wednesday after a speeding ambulance rammed the toll booth, Byndoor police have booked the driver of the ambulance, Roshan, under Sections 279 (Punishment for rash driving) and 304 (A) (Punishment for causing death by negligence) of IPC. As per section 304 (A), if the accused is convicted by the court, it may sentence him to minimum of three months of imprisonment and maximum of three years.

In the viral video of the accident, a cattle head is seen resting on the ambulance lane, leading to the driver applying brakes abruptly.

However, no case has been registered against the staff at the toll gate maintained by NHAI concessionaire-IRB Infrastructure Developers Ltd.

The case is booked by Byndoor police based on a complaint by Deepak Shetty who is a staff at the toll gate in Shiroor. He was an eyewitness to the accident.

The mishap happened at 4.05 pm on Wednesday when the ambulance crashed the cash counter of the sixth lane of the toll gate killing four persons and injuring five others.

SURVIVOR BLAMES TOLL GATE STAFFERS

A day after the ambulance accident at Shiroor toll gate, a blame game has begun. The Honnavar-based survivor, a relative of the deceased Gajanan Naik, has said that toll staff were fully responsible for the accident. "The ambulance driver was well in control. His aim was to take the patient to a hospital in Udupi as recommended by the Honnavar hospital that treated him initially. The toll staff were negligent. There was a cow sitting right in front of the toll booth. The staff got up to drive it away only when we came very near," he said. "The ambulance driver manoeuvred the vehicle a bit to avoid the cattle and applied brakes," he added.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

NATIONAL Institute of Mental Health and Neuro Sciences (NIMHANS), in association with the State Government, will inaugurate the first Brain Health Clinic (BHC) in Karnataka — at Jayanagar General Hospital on the World Brain Day on July 22.

BHC is a Karnataka Brain Health Initiative (KaBHI) under the guidance of NITI Aayog. Two more BHCs will later be inaugurated at SNR District Hospital, Kolar and Chikkaballapura District Hospital.

BHCs will serve as nodal centres to diagnose, treat, refer and follow-up patients with common neurological disorders and ensure that they receive multidisciplinary care, including counselling, physiotherapy, rehabilitation and disability benefits.

The clinics will be coordinated by physicians at the general hospital, who are trained in the care of patients with neurological diseases. They will be supported by Departments of Neurology and Epidemiology, NIMHANS.

WORLD BRAIN DAY

NIMHANS will also celebrate the World Brain Day with Minister of Health and Family Welfare and Medical Education Dr K Sudhakar and cricketer Robin Uthappa as the brand ambassador and guest of honour. The theme for this year's World Brain Day is 'Brain health for all.' There will be interactive cricket with patients, care givers, and NGOs supporting stroke dementia, epilepsy patients.

"Brain health is a critical aspect of overall health. Diseases affecting the brain are the single most important cause of disability and second most cause of death in the world," said NIMHANS director Dr Pratima Murthy.

KaBHI is the first of its kind initiative in India with the objective to promote brain health in the community from primary health centres to secondary level district hospitals and NIMHANS at the tertiary level. It was launched on January 25 this year by Dr Sudhakar. Chief Minister Bommai, in his budget speech, had announced the initiation of the pilot projects on brain health in Kolar, Chikkaballapura and Bengaluru South.

India Post-Railways biz model delivers parcels to customer doorstep

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

A total of 1.52 tonnes of incense sticks (agarbathis) chugged off from KSR Bengaluru railway station to Visakhapatnam railway station on board the Prashanti Express on Thursday afternoon, the first train to run as a joint venture in South India between India Post and the Railways. It is only the second railway route in India to be covered under the 'Joint Parcel Product' scheme between the Union Government departments. The consignment in 44 boxes departed at 1.40 pm on Train No. 18464 which runs up to Bhubaneswar. Chief Postmaster General, Karnataka Circle, S Rajendra Kumar said, "The first such venture was from Surat to Varanasi with textile products in April this year."

The crucial part for businesses is the first and last mile connectivity to be provided by India Post by picking and dropping the consignment at the doorsteps of firms. "The customer need not visit the railway station as in the past as we take care of it completely. We are already getting queries from other cities and the service to Raipur in Chhattisgarh will be the next such one," he said. Chief Commercial Manager (Passenger Services), SWR, Dr Anup Dayanand Sadhu said the business through India Post opens up a completely new source of revenue for the Railways. "This is a pilot project. Railways will provide the middle connectivity under the scheme. We charge ₹5.72 per kg for our service while India Post will charge ₹6 per kg," he said. A release from Railways said that a total freight charge of ₹7,883 was charged for the transportation.

KERALA'S POLITICAL FARCE MAY HAVE GONE TOO FAR

Political correctness and propriety have gone missing from Kerala politics if the recent events are anything to go by. A cacophony of misogyny, racism, and vindictiveness has taken their place. If the ruling CPM-led LDF is leading this absurd race, the Congress-led opposition is not far behind. Kerala's political climate changed when the Pinarayi Vijayan government secured a second consecutive term. If the victory made the comrades intolerant and go overboard, the opposition, fighting for survival, turned belligerent. The result was two equally hostile fronts on either side, ready to do anything to take the other down. Political civility, as expected, was the first casualty.

The reappearance of gold smuggling accused Swapna Suresh spiced up the scene with the opposition lapping her every anti-government word. As a counter, the LDF reintroduced solar case fame Saritha. With two women with dubious intentions becoming the tools in the hands of rival fronts, playing dirty became the new normal. If the in-flight protest against the chief minister was the lowest point in the Congress' game plan to take on the government, the ruling front stooped lower by slapping attempt to murder charges against the Youth Congress workers involved and getting a former MLA arrested.

The slugfest took a misogynistic turn when senior CPM leader M M Mani said, on the assembly floor, that opposition legislator K K Rema's widowhood was her "fate". Rema's husband, T P Chandrasekharan, a CPM rebel who formed his own party, was murdered in 2012, and among those convicted were CPM men. Congress resorted to racism to attack Mani. While a chimpanzee cutout with Mani's face was used during protests, party boss K Sudhakaran chose to side with them rather than drive sense into his unruly men.

The only sane voice to have emerged was of speaker M B Rajesh, who cautioned legislators to watch what they say. Kerala's theatre of the absurd has dragged on for too long. Political competitiveness is a necessity but can be maintained without those involved losing their sense of decency. What is required is for parties to find ways to take their agendas forward without vitiating the atmosphere.

KALLAKURICHI ISSUE PRODS POLICE REFORMS

Tamil Nadu witnessed a shocking spurt of violence in the Kallakurichi district on July 17. The police was caught unprepared for the enormity of the protest and the district administration was unable to resolve an emotive issue that had been simmering for days.

On July 13, a 17-year-old girl died at a private residential school. The child's family alleged foul play and refused to accept the body without a proper investigation. The local police, by all accounts, seemed ready to deem the death a suicide. On July 16, when the autopsy report came out, the protest grew larger, with calls for agitation the following day flying around on social media. Unauthenticated wild rumours had been circulating on social media, along with an emotional video of the child's mother demanding justice for the girl's death.

On July 17, police personnel were deployed near the school, but within hours of the protest, they found themselves vastly outnumbered. A section of protesters turned violent, entering the school, setting tens of vehicles on fire, ransacking the school buildings, and resorting to arson. Police vehicles were also torched, and senior cops were among those who sustained injuries.

The violence dissipated only after reinforcements reached the police from other districts. The state government has since transferred the collector, superintendent of police and inspector general (intelligence) and put a CB-CID team on probing the death. An SIT is also investigating the violence.

Police eventually ended the violence without any loss of life; memories of the Thoothukudi police firing that killed 13 in 2018 are fresh in people's minds. However, the question arises if the situation would have deteriorated had the police accepted the family's request for a detailed investigation immediately after the death. Similarly, police failed to thwart people's mass mobilisation before July 17. The state government must assess the functioning of the police department and enact much-needed reforms.

With US sanctions destroying the unified monetary system, new bilateral arrangements will emerge. A few neighbouring countries seem interested in India's initiative

DOES SHIFT TO RUPEE SIGNAL DOLLAR RETREAT?

On the 11th of this month, the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) issued a circular to banks authorised to deal in foreign exchange, informing them of the change in payment procedure for cross-border trade. The language adopted was rather coy. The idea, it went on to say, is "to promote the growth of global trade with emphasis on exports from India and to support the increasing interest of the global trading community in INR".

The circular allows payment in INR and details the arrangements for invoicing and settlements for imports. It falls back on the Foreign Exchange Management (Deposit) Regulations, 2016. Banks may open Nostro/Vostro accounts on behalf of traders to facilitate cross-border payments, which will be in rupee.

Shorn of the RBI's jargon, the change implies bringing back the bilateral rupee payment arrangements in vogue with the East European countries. Indeed, the unstated intention is to circumvent the ban (sanctions) on dealing in dollars the US imposed on Russia in the wake of the war in Ukraine. A significant aspect of the new arrangement is that all payments, invoices, and settlements shall take place in INR. Another is that it covers all trade, including crude oil and gas. It is worth recalling that oil supplies were paid in convertible currency, i.e., the dollar, under the old bilateral arrangement.

When the changed payment procedure was announced, all the newspapers and the media carried exciting reports proclaiming it as a paradigm shift and that the rupee was being launched as an international currency and the RBI had commenced the process. The reportage was either a misunderstanding or inspired briefing by our diplomatic corps to mollify the US' sensitivities. The diplomatic niceties must be forsaken when national interests are at stake. Indeed, Oil supplies from Russia are one such. India seems to have taken the plunge after dithering for some months. This move was also seen to be in line with our foreign policy and voting in the UNGA.

As we wrote in an earlier column (Ukraine invasion: Sanctions are not forever, 3rd March 2022), there are profound implications such as the disruption of supply chains impacting areas like energy, etc. The immediate problem is to settle a bilateral arrangement. Arindam Bagchi, the spokesperson of MEA, said there was a lack of clarity and details were awaited. He did say that the Rupee/Rouble model was one of the options to be examined even as he ducked the question. Finally, after a couple of months, the GOI/RBI has opted for a bilateral arrangement.

As we hinted earlier, the story about the internationalisation of INR is a diplomatic sop to the US. If we study the monetary policy of the RBI closely over the years, making the INR a global currency was not one of its policies, unlike the Peoples' Bank of China (PBoC), which worked for years to make its RMB a global currency. The RBI had done some Staff Papers on the issue that neither the global value, use of INR, nor the share of India's trade in international trade would make INR an eligible candidate. Moreover, they felt India's financial market lacked the depth to play a global role.

> The RBI Report pointed out that internationalisation can potentially affect the ability of the central bank to control the money supply and interest rates per domestic macroeconomic conditions. Against such a perception, will the RBI launch INR as a global currency?

A brief study in the RBI's Report on Currency and Finance for 2020-21 was released in February last week. While the Report said that the internationalisation of the rupee is "inevitable" but will complicate the formulation of the monetary policy.

Internationalisation means the currency can be used by both residents and as a reserve currency. The Report pointed out that internationalisation can potentially affect the ability of the central bank to control the money supply and interest rates per domestic macroeconomic conditions. Against such a perception, will the RBI launch INR as a global currency?

There was no reason for the GOI or the RBI to be coy about alternative arrangements to ensure vital supplies. Jim O'Neill posed the question: What do the sanctions mean for future monetary affairs and systems?

Are we witnessing a further consolidation of US power through a dollar-denominated system, or will this episode set the stage for the kind of economic and financial fragmentation? At least for the present, it seems that US sanctions have destroyed the unified monetary system, and it will result in the Balkanisation of the financial system.

In the early round, bilateral arrangements will emerge. India's initiative has already triggered interest in some neighbouring countries. Yuan will be strengthened, which is already being used in some countries. For the oil trade, Yuan is already adopted. It is too early to foresee the emergence of new trading arrangements. One thing seems evident: the dollar would have lost pre-eminence, and there is a retreat from the dollar. India's new bilateral arrangement signifies it.

WHEN LORD KEDARNATH CAME TO THE SOUTH

R H KULKARNI

Professor & HOD, Art History, College of Fine Arts, Karnataka Chitrakala Parishath

Kedarnath, the abode of Kedareshwara Siva, is one of the most significant Jyotirlingas. It is a place of great attraction, for both spiritual and physical experiences. I always wondered if the mighty Himalayas have hidden many more exciting places in the vast range.

Among the 12 Jyotirlingas, Kedareshwara is the most important one. The Kshetra Darshana of Kedareshwara, even with the best mode of transportation today, has its own constraints. Kedarnath is nestled amidst the magnanimous, mighty Himalayan ranges and is approachable by ancient pavement pathways (about 17 km) from Gaurikund and Sonprayag.

The trekking pathway follows the edge of a mighty mountain on one side while the Mandakini River is on another. Even with modern-day amenities, the Kshetra Darshana of Kedarnath is risky and demanding. The region's high altitude, sudden climatic change and lack of oxygen can threaten life. However, despite all such difficulties, pilgrims visit in plenty to see the ultimate abode of the lord (I visited the Kshetra in the last week of May 2022).

The ancient records of the temple date back to the 8–9th century. That marks the visit of Adi Guru Shankaracharya, who set right the pooja procedure both at Kedar and Badarinath.

It is said that he consecrated the Sivalinga in its present position and caused the temple construction. Kedareshwara temple has a beautiful nagara shikhara temple with a garbhagriha and a hall, where sculptures of the Pandavas are enshrined in niches. The temple's main entrance has a pediment-like form on the doorway, which has a statue of an apsara. It is simply an imposing architecture and a typical example of the Himalayan temples. Similar temples may be seen at Ukhi Mutt, Badari, Tunganath, Guptha Kashi, etc.

The fascinating aspect is the presence of Kedareshwara temples in southern India, especially in Karnataka. There are more than a dozen temples named after Kedareshwara. Interestingly, the majority of these temples were built after 8–9th Century CE.

It also indicates Sri Shankaracharya's influence on bringing the Kedareshwara and other Jyotirlinga temples to southern India. It is true that even today, all Siva devotees may not be able to visit Kedarnath. The pilgrimage is not easy; hence, Kedarnath has descended to south India. Anyone desirous of visiting Kedarnath must face a lot of difficulties. That is probably why all remote and far-flung Jyotirlingas have been installed in Karnataka.

The one I wish to introduce here is at Balligave, in Shikaripur Taluk of Shimoga District in Karnataka. Balligave was a flourishing town from the times of the Badami Chalukyas. It was the centre of learning and merchants. Later, during the Kalyan Chalukya period, it developed as an essential centre of architecture and sculpture and also the Kalamukha Saiva seat. There were six Mutts, of which the Kedareshwara Mutt belongs to the Kalamukha sect of Saivism. It also serves as the headquarters of the Kalamukha Saiva teachers, whose names are mentioned in many inscriptions of the Kalyan Chalukya period in Balligave and nearby places.

The Kedareshwara temple at Balligave is undoubtedly a delicate construction representing the period's matured temple architecture. It has three garbhagrihas built in the Vesara style in 1070 CE during the time of Kalyan Chalukya king Vikramaditya VI. It was renovated under Hoysala king Vishnuvardhana in 1131 CE. The central garbhagriha was enshrined with Sivalinga, while the side shrines also have Sivalingas and images of Vishnu. In medieval Karnataka, in the later Chalukya period, Tripurusha temples were built in good numbers.

Even Brahma was installed in the form of Sivalinga, known as Brahmeshwara. The Kedareshwara temple of Balligave has unique architectural features. The temple is a Trikuta, with a wide, open sabha mantapa and has three towers erected in the Vera style. The main hall has lathe-turned, finely polished pillars, while the central ceiling has Ashta Dikpalas on their respective vehicles flanking the centrally-depicted Nataraja Siva. Balligave's importance to the Kalamukha guru parampara is mentioned in the inscriptions. The Kalamukha sect of Saiva school is an offshoot of Pashupata school, somewhat connected to the North Indian Saiva Siddhanta. The Kedar Peetha Saiva school is possibly connected to the Kalamukha School at Balligave.

Like Kedarnath, Balligave also has a myth associated with the Pandavas. It is believed that during their vanavas, the Pandavas came here. The temple was the centre of Kalamukha teachers and activities. It was also the seat of Shakti Parishad, and teachers like Kedarashakti Pandita headed the sect. His disciple was Srikantha Pandita, and his descale was Someshwara Pandita.

They even served the royal family as preceptors. Kedareshwara temple at Balligave is a living temple worshipped as reverentially as the Kedarnath temple of the Himalayas. Besides its historical, religious and architectural importance, Balligave was a centre of artists and artisans. Balligave Dasoja was a famous artist who worked on the Chennakeshava temple in Belur. Luminary architects like Bisadoja, Chavoja and Singoja worked on Kedareshwara Temple.

The later Chalukya period saw the emergence of Jyotirlinga temples in Karnataka. Saurashtra Someswara and Srisaila Mallikarjuna are other important and popular Sivalingas along with Kedareshwara. The Hoysala kings, too, followed the same tradition. Medieval beliefs brought the North Indian holy pilgrimage places closed in religious terms to the South.

Similarly, Lakshmeshwara in Gada District has a temple named Somnath–Saurashtra Someshwara. Kedareshwara descending to the South is a religious and spiritual necessity of the early medieval period.

Liz vs Rishi

This is with reference to Race whittles down to Sunak and Truss for next PM (July 21). This race is an interesting one indeed. It will be a huge feat if Rishi Sunak wins—it will break the racial barriers that have existed in Britain for so long. Rather than accusing each other in debates, whoever becomes the PM should focus on tackling the economic crisis that is plaguing the country's economy—after all, inflation has touched a 40-year-high.

Revise NEET guidelines

This is with reference to the editorial Frisking that wasn't so NEET (July 21). It is horrifying that these girls had to face that. The metal detector detected the hook attached to the bra. Don't people know the difference? The lady attendants should have helped close this matter. Hopefully the guidelines will be revised in order to prevent such ugly incidents.

Veena is doing well

This is with reference to Protocol for handling monkeypox cases released (July 21). Kerala Health Minister Veena George has taken a good step to handle the monkeypox outbreak. By mandating that symptomatic patients should take steps to isolate, etc., and that government and private hospitals should follow the SOPs, she has truly done some good work. Hopefully, this pattern stays and many patients will get the help they need.

Business as usual

As usual, the Monsoon Session of Parliament was adjourned without any business for the third consecutive day. People elect these representatives hoping that their concerns will be voiced fairly. But the Opposition seems to think that it is making a statement by disrupting Parliamentary proceedings. Taxpayers' hard-earned money flows into managing Parliament, but no productive business seems to take place. Things really need to change so that proceedings can be held in a fruitful manner with better outcomes.

UAE highest FDI investor in India, host to 35 lakh Indians, says MEA

Gulf state figures in top 10 investors pumping money into India

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

THE United Arab Emirates (UAE) is the highest contributor to Foreign Direct Investment (FDI) in India from the Gulf region. Between 2017 and 2021, around $6,488.35 million was invested by the UAE in India. It was revealed by Minister of State for External Affairs V Muraleedharan in a reply to a question in the Rajya Sabha.

The UAE is one of the top 10 Foreign Direct Investment (FDI) contributors in India. During the last three years, $5.5 billion FDI came from the Middle East country. Saudi Arabia is also one of the significant contributors to FDI in India.

Meanwhile, UAE is important for India from the expat point of view too as nearly 35 lakh Indians live there. Remittances to India from the UAE are high too and have registered a five per cent increase in the recent months say sources.

According to the MEA, the major investment into India from Gulf countries is: $6488.55 million from the UAE, $3058.25 million from Saudi Arabia, $223.49 million from Qatar, $181.45 from Bahrain, $109.25 million from Oman and $37.91 from Kuwait.

According to the minister, the Indian migrant workers returning from the ECR countries between June 2020 to December 2021 included 1,52,126 from the UAE, 1,18,064 from Saudi Arabia, 51,206 from Kuwait, 46,003 from Oman and 32,361 from Qatar. According to the eMigrate portal, a total of 4,16,024 Emigration Clearance were issued for ECR countries during the period January 1, 2020 to June 30, 2022, he said.

The number of people who left India to work in the six Gulf countries of Bahrain, Kuwait, Oman, Qatar, Saudi Arabia and the UAE, between June 2020 and December 2021, is 1,41,172.

As per statistics, the trade with the UAE, Saudi Arabia, Iraq, Qatar, Kuwait, Oman, and Iran together constitute 18.25 percent of the total trades of India with foreign countries.

Fate of National Museum stuck in limbo as ministry yet to take decision

NEW FDELHI: The fate of the National Museum building on Janpath is stuck in a limbo as the culture ministry has not taken a decision about demolition of the structure and shifting of artefacts preserved there yet. As part of the government's ambitious Central Vista Project, the museum holding two lakh objects from pre-historic era to modern art works is proposed to move to North and South blocks housing offices of various ministries. "No decision in this regard has been taken," Union Culture Minister G Kishan Reddy informed Rajya Sabha on Thursday while replying to the question asked by former culture secretary Jawhar Sircar, who is TMC MP. The MP has also asked whether any consultations were held with experts before floating an Expression of Intent in October, 2021 for building a central storage facility of museum collections? The minister stated that the government had carried out consultations.

SUPPLY CHAINS MUST BE BOTH GLOBAL & LOCAL

KIRAN MAZUMDAR-SHAW
The writer is Chairperson of Biocon and Biocon Biologics

THE Covid-19 pandemic and the Russia-Ukraine war have exposed the fragility of global supply chains, prompting countries to look inwards increasingly. Calls for national self-sufficiency and near-shoring supply chains threaten to reverse the gains from globalisation and an interconnected world economy.

Global supply chains spanning multiple industries and dozens of countries have driven and defined globalisation over the past few decades. Till recently, an estimated 70% of world trade was carried out through these supply chains. Their critical role in international trade has made them prime drivers of the world economy. Their evolution has led to technology growth, job creation, greater prosperity and improved living standards, especially in developing economies. Emerging markets such as the BRICS countries, comprising Brazil, Russia, India, Indonesia, China and South Africa, have been the largest beneficiaries of this development. The fragmentation of these global networks does not augur well for the world economy. Trade protectionism will result in shocks to the global financial system and add cost and inefficiencies to the detriment of consumers.

Rethinking the global supply chains

Recent developments have made it amply clear that low costs can no longer be the sole determinant of supply chain decisions. The COVID-19 pandemic had stretched supply chains, making it costlier to procure raw materials, manufacture goods and ship them worldwide. The war in Europe has worsened price pressures in the food and energy markets. According to the IMF, inflation rates around the world have recently reached an average of 8.7%.

The current situation demands a fundamental rethinking of global supply chains to make them resilient and agile to manage disruption risks better.

The world needs to move from a centralised, linear model of supply to digitally enabled, distributed supply networks closer to customers and markets.

These 'future ready' supply chains will need to be dynamic to meet rapidly evolving and increasingly volatile customer and consumer needs. They need to be smart to predict, prepare, and respond to a catastrophe whenever and wherever it strikes. They also must demonstrate a commitment to improved environmental, social and governance performance by ensuring that business operations are circular, net zero, and trusted.

LEADERS SPEAK

We have a great example of a flexible and resilient system, the Internet, which is based on a highly distributed architecture. The pandemic, for instance, was managed on a cyber backbone that enabled remote working, virtual meetings and digital commerce and kept the world economies interconnected and relatively undisrupted. Leveraging the Internet model to reinvent the global supply chains of tomorrow can lead us into a state of preparedness no matter the crisis.

Personalised supply chains are what the future will ultimately demand, e.g., e-commerce and e-pharmacies, which will need to cater to individual needs in the shortest time. It will need digital platforms that track, trace and deliver at speed and scale. Hub and spoke models that are both agile and affordable will form the distributed model that will need to have lean and efficient, 'just in time' inventory management systems.

Supply chains of the future must be global, regional and local simultaneously.

India can gain from the reshaping of supply chains

To ensure that production disruptions in one location--like the Covid lockdowns in China--don't disrupt entire supply chains, there will be greater emphasis on making supply chains more resilient.

India benefits from the 'China Plus One' strategy when MNCs are trying to diversify their supply chains to include sourcing from India to mitigate their dependence on China.

This dovetails with the government's declared objective of integrating India with global supply chains. The government has rolled out policy initiatives such as the Production-Linked Incentive (PLI) Scheme and low corporate tax rates for new manufacturing to capture this emerging opportunity.

Information technology and connectivity will be key elements in global integration in future. Countries with strong digital backbones could act as the arteries of this new global supply chain system. This is why India will have a pivotal role in this digital transformation of global supply networks.

India's strategic intent to build a robust digital economy and its commitment to universal healthcare have already been initiated in our country, from DBTs to CoWin. Digital healthcare that relies on distributed models is a great opportunity for India to build sustainable and resilient supply chains across vaccines, diagnostics and therapeutics for the world.

94 YouTube channels blocked for spreading fake news: I&B minister

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

INFORMATION and Broadcasting minister Anurag Thakur on Thursday said the government blocked 94 YouTube channels, 19 social media accounts and 747 uniform resource locators (URLs) during 2021-22 for spreading fake news.

Responding to a question in the Rajya Sabha, Thakur said the action had been taken under Section 69A of the Information Technology Act 2000. The government has strongly acted against agencies working against the sovereignty of the country by spreading fake news and propaganda on the internet, he added.

Thakur said in order to check the spread of Covid-19 related fake news, a dedicated cell of the fact-checking unit of the Press Information Bureau (PIB) was created on March 31, 2020. The unit has responded to 34,125 actionable queries, including queries related to Covid-19, Thakur said, adding that the PIB has also busted fake news and 875 posts thereof on its social media platforms.

The crackdown on digital channels, portals, and social media handles running an anti-India agenda and spreading fake news began in December when the ministry issued directions for blocking 20 YouTube Channels and two websites, operating from Pakistan under the same provisions for the first time.

Since then, the ministry has been blocking digital media channels in a phased manner.

The bailey bridge to Hot Spring being assembled by BRO personnel | BRO/TWITTER

India boosts road links to LAC standoff points

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

WITH China showing no intent towards de-escalation along the Line of Actual Control in Eastern Ladakh and instead ramping up its border infrastructure, India has also been pushed to strengthen connectivity to the locations where the troops from the two sides are still in a standoff position.

A day after the 16th round of Corps Commanders talks between India and China on Sunday, the Border Roads Organisation (BRO) inaugurated a bridge to Hot Spring (PP15), one of the key standoff points along with Depsang and Demchok.

The BRO officially informed on July 18 that Project Himank has successfully constructed a bailey bridge on the Road Phobrang-Marsimik La-Hot Spring. The BRO personnel (Karmyogis) "have bridged another important gap to facilitate logistics support of our forces", the BRO said in a twitter post.

This is in addition to the construction of a 120-metre permanent bridge over the mighty Shyok River, also in eastern Ladakh. The Chinese have been objecting to the strategically important 255-km Darbuk-Shyok-Daulat Beg Oldie (DSDBO) Road that ends at an altitude of 16,614 ft at Daulat Beg Oldie (DBO), about 20 km short of the 18,700-ft high Karakoram Pass.

Col Chewang Rinchen Setu at 15,000 ft is another strategically important bridge over the Shyok, connecting Durbuk and DBO in eastern Ladakh. The areas of eastern Ladakh are being connected with roads and bridges, big and small, keeping the necessity of mobility in mind as the prolonged standoff between the Indian troops and the Chinese People's Liberation Army prevails along the Line of Actual Control.

In high altitude mountain terrain, these gaps, if not filled, compel the soldiers to travel longer routes taking more time and also making logistics supply cumbersome.

'Unmarried women' now in MTP Act

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Thursday expanded the scope of the Medical Termination of Pregnancy Act (MTP) to include "unmarried woman" and allowed a woman to abort her 24-week pregnancy arising out of a consensual relationship.

A bench of Justices DY Chandrachud, Surya Kant and AS Bopanna directed the AIIMS director to set up a medical board of two doctors to examine the woman by Friday under the provisions of the MTP Act. It also asked the board to determine whether the pregnancy, if terminated could risk the life of the woman or not.

"We request the AIIMS director to constitute a medical board in terms of provisions of Section 3(2)(d) MTP Act by tomorrow (Friday). In the event the medical board concludes that the foetus can be aborted without any danger to the life of the petitioner (woman), the AIIMS shall carry out the abortion in terms of the petition...," the bench said.

The SC sought the report of the medical board within one week of the procedure and said the order of the Delhi High Court stands modified to the above extent. The bench said provisions of the MTP Act amended in 2021 include the word "partner" instead of "husband" in the explanation to section 3, which shows the intent of Parliament that it was not to confine the situations arising only out of matrimonial relationships.

It said the use of the word "partner" ascribes to an intention of Parliament to cover "unmarried woman" under the act, which is in consonance with the Constitution. It added that the Delhi HC had taken an unduly restricted view by not allowing the woman to undergo medical termination of pregnancy at 23 weeks arising out of a consensual relationship on the ground that she was "unmarried".

The bench sought the assistance of Additional Solicitor General Aishwarya Bhati on the interpretation of the provisions of the act and observed that allowing the petitioner woman to suffer an unwanted pregnancy will be contrary to the object and spirit of the legislation.

It said the petitioner should not be denied the benefit of the law merely on the ground that she is an unmarried woman. In an order issued on July 16, a Delhi HC bench refused to grant permission to the woman to abort the 23-week foetus, saying it is not permitted under the abortion law after 20 weeks for pregnancy arising out of a consensual relationship.

The petitioner, a 25-year-old woman, had told the court that her partner, with whom she was in a consensual relationship, had refused to marry her. She had stressed that giving birth outside the wedlock would cause her psychological agony as well as social stigma and she was not mentally prepared to be a mother.

Gyanvapi: SC waits for district court verdict

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court will wait the decision of Varanasi district judge on the Gyanvapi mosque committee's application raising objections to the maintainability of the civil suit filed by Hindu devotees before dealing with the appeal of the committee against the Allahabad High Court order upholding the appointment of court commissioner to survey the religious site.

On Thursday, the court has also refused to entertain two writ petitions which were filed seeking right to worship the 'shivling' stated to be found in the mosque during the survey and seeking its carbon dating and GPS survey.

A bench of Justices D Y Chandrachud, Surya Kant, and P S Narasimha said that it is posting for October 20 hearing on the appeal of the Gyanvapi mosque committee's plea against the Allahabad High Court order. The bench said that it has been apprised of the fact that proceedings before the District Judge are still underway and it would be appropriate if the appeal of the mosque committee is kept pending till the outcome of the application filed under Order 7 Rule 11 questioning the maintainability of the suit.

The bench told senior advocate Huzefa Ahmadi appearing for the Committee of Management of Anujman Intezamia Masajid, Varanasi, that it would keep the proceedings on the appeal filed by it pending till the District Judge adjudicate upon the objections filed by the mosque committee on the maintainability of the suit under Order 7 Rule 11 of CPC.

The court said, "You see everything depends on the application under Order 7 Rule 11 of CPC which has been filed before the district judge, Varanasi. If the district judge upholds the objections then nothing remains but if it rejects the objections then parties can avail the remedies provided under the law."

July 28 hearing on BCCI plea for amending its constitution

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court will hear on July 28 the plea filed by Board of Control for Cricket in India (BCCI) seeking nod for amending its constitution concerning the tenure of office bearers. A bench comprising Chief Justice of India N V Ramana and Justices Krishna Murari and Hima Kohli also appointed senior advocate Maninder Singh as amicus curiae in the matter since the earlier amicus curiae, P S Narasimha, has now been elevated as a Supreme Court judge.

The BCCI's constitution mandates a cooling-off period between the tenures of office bearers of the cricket body and also across state cricket associations. The cricket board wants this cooling off period to be done away with. The tenures of BCCI president Sourav Ganguly and Secretary Jay Shah are ending soon and the board wants its constitution amended before that.

The Justice RM Lodha-led committee had recommended reforms in the BCCI which had been accepted by the apex court. The panel recommended a three-year cooling-off period for BCCI office bearers after a tenure of six years.

The BCCI constitution stipulates a mandatory three-year cooling-off period for anyone who had served two consecutive terms of three years each in the state cricket association or BCCI.

The proposed amendedment will enable Ganguly and Shah to continue in office despite having completed six years.

Several ministers yet to delegate work to MoS in UP

Junior ministers are upset about not having their duties defined, or nature of work

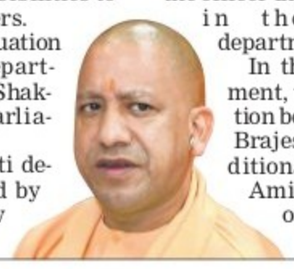
NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

THE "resignation" of UP junior minister for Jal Shakti Dinesh Khatik on Wednesday has raised questions over coordination between Cabinet ministers and their junior ministers in the UP government.

Sources say at least six Cabinet ministers and ministers of state with independent charge are yet to delegate responsibility to their MoS junior ministers despite reminders by CM Yogi Adityanath.

Even after 125 days of assuming office, the junior ministers are not fully aware of their roles. Those who know their responsibilities are upset with the nature of work allocated to them, said sources.

The 53-member UP council of ministers comprises 20 MoS. Yogi, who has at least 34 portfolios including home, vigilance and personnel, has already delegated the responsibilities to his junior ministers.



However, the situation is different in departments such as Jal Shakti, prison and parliamentary affairs.

In the Jal Shakti department, headed by Swatantra Dev Singh, Dinesh Khatik and Ramkesh Nishad are yet to get the exact allocation of work.

Manohar Lal Kori, MoS, Labour and Employment, is said to be upset as he has been given work related to class four workers. Ministers of State for Prison, Suresh Rahi, Parliamentary Affairs and Industrial Development Jaswant Saini and Higher Education Rajni Tiwari too are yet to get their duties defined.

The junior ministers complain that they have been given petty work such as filing reply to questions raised in the Assembly and council. They also say they are not invited to department meetings or informed about senior minister's directives.

Meanwhile, rumblings between the ministers and bureaucrats are also hampering work. Sources said the ministers are not happy with Jal Shakti principal secretary and the officer in the same capacity in the irrigation department.

In the health department, the troubled equation between Deputy CM Brajesh Pathak and additional chief secretary Amit Mohan Prasad is out in the open.

Will continue to work under CM, Khatik says after meeting Yogi

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

A day after creating ripples by announcing his resignation alleging caste-based discrimination against him, Minister of State for Jal Shakti in the UP government, Dinesh Khatik, met CM Yogi Adityanath on Thursday. After the meeting, Khatik said he would not quit as his issues were resolved.

Khatik had announced his resignation by writing a letter addressed to Union Home Minister Amit Shah in which he claimed that he was the victim of bureaucratic indifference in his department. He had also expressed his dissatisfaction with the delay in assigning departmental responsibilities to him even after four months of government formation, and had flagged corruption allegedly taking place in the postings of officers in the Jal Shakti department.

After meeting Yogi in Lucknow, Khatik said he had raised his issues with the CM and action would be taken soon. "Mukhaymantriji is working on the policy of zero tolerance to corruption, and I will continue to work under him," Khatik said. The meeting was also attended by Swatantra Dev Singh, Cabinet minister, Jal Shakti department.

Spine strong enough to face central agencies: Mamata

PRANAB MONDAL @ Kolkata

DAMPENING expectations that she will announce her party's roadmap for the 2024 Lok Sabha elections, Trinamool Congress chief Mamata Banerjee on Thursday kept her speech restricted to some regular notes while attacking the BJP during her address on the occasion of Martyrs' Day, the biggest annual event of the party, in Kolkata.

Mamata attacked the Union government on several issues, ranging from overthrowing elected state governments and unemployment in the country to price hike, all of which she has raised on several occasions in the recent past.

Claiming that the 2024 Lok Sabha polls would be an election for rejection, Mamata predicted that the BJP will not get a simple majority. "Once the BJP is not able to secure a simple majority, the Opposition parties will unite to overthrow it from power," she said. However, throughout her one-hour speech, she did not mention Congress or any initiative of TMC to unite anti-BJP parties. She also did not refer to Sonia Gandhi's interrogation by the ED while accusing the BJP of misusing the central agencies against her party.

"Our spinal cords are strong enough to face the central agencies. But BJP has a weak spine. They are trying to balance it by using CBI, ED on one side and the income tax department on the other," she said. Though there was a strong buzz doing the rounds that political leaders from other parties may join the TMC on the dais, but nothing of the sort happened.

Mamata directed her party workers to observe the World Tribal Day on Aug. 9 "without any conflict". The instruction assumes significance in the backdrop of Droupadi Murmu becoming the country's first tribal President, as it is being said that she would not go for any confrontation with the BJP on the issue of tribals to keep the backward class vote-bank in her favour.

The Bengal CM also attacked the previous Left Front government for corruption in the teachers' recruitment in schools, an issue being probed by the CBI for alleged malpractice during the TMC-run government's tenure.

V-P elections: TMC to abstain from voting

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kolkata

HUGE ego once again came came in the way of the Opposition jointly fighting the BJP, this time for the vice-presidential elections, as the Trinamool Congress on Thursday decided to abstain from its voting process. The party said it was not consulted before Congress veteran Margaret Alva's candidature was decided upon at a recent Opposition meeting.

"We were not consulted. A senior Opposition leader tried to call up Trinamool chief Mamata Banerjee after Alva's name was already decided. So, we decided to abstain," said Abhishek Banerjee, Mamata's nephew.

A day after the NDA announced West Bengal Governor Jagdeep Dhankhar as its candidate for the polls, the Opposition pitted Alva against him on Sunday.

At a party meeting at Mamata's house, 85% of its MPs opined that the Trinalool should abstain from voting. "It was a unanimous decision that we will not support the NDA's candidate and abstain from the voting process,'' informed Banerjee.

NCP chief Sharad Pawar on Sunday said he had tried to contact Mamata but could not get through as she was busy in a conference.

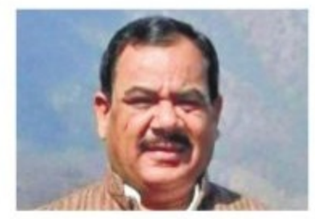
'Children's traffic parks' to come up in state

The government of Uttarakhand has given its final nod for the setting up of 'children's traffic parks' in the state. The idea behind the concept, according to Deputy Inspector General of Police, Mukhtar Mohsin, is to make schoolchildren aware about traffic rules since they are more adaptive in understanding and following regulations. Acting on the proposal of the traffic directorate, the state government has initially permitted establishment of such parks in Udham Singh Nagar, Dehradun, Nainital, and Haridwar. The famous tourism and pilgrimage destinations in the hill state, like Mussoorie, Nainital, Auli, Almora and the Char Dham destinations attract lakhs of visitors every year, resulting in traffic congestion.



Harak Singh mulling something new?

Senior politician Harak Singh Rawat is said to be planning to switch camps — once again. Rawat, who migrated from the BJP to Congress just before elections, is once again mulling something new, say political observers in the state, pointing at his long silence and the fact that he has been keeping himself aloof from the Congress flock for quite some time. Considered among the political heavyweights in state politics, Rawat held ministerial positions in the Cabinets of Narain Dutt Tiwari, Harish Rawat, Vijay Bahuguna, Trivendra Rawat, Ramesh Pokhriyal Nishank, and Bhuwan Chandra Khanduri. He was also a strong contender for chief ministership before he said goodbye to the saffron party. He is now apparently planning a big leap after the defeat of his daughter-in-law, a former beauty queen title holder, Anukriti Gusain, in the last Assembly elections.

'Devbhoomi to be also known as Devibhoomi'

Uttarakhand's Cabinet minister Rekha Arya always finds a novel way to focus on the sensitive issues of the state and draw attention of the people. This time, Rekha, who holds the portfolios of women empowerment, child Welfare and sports departments, has pledged to check female foeticide and promote gender equality in the state by 2025, when Uttarakhand will celebrate the silver jubilee of its formation. Rekha, who is an MLA for the third consecutive time, said, "Devbhoomi will hereafter be also known as Devibhoomi."

Oppn slams govt plan to put up boards at homes of beneficiaries

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @ Guwahati

THE Opposition parties are going hammer and tongs at the BJP government for "insulting" the poor. They are criticising the government's plan to mark out the beneficiaries of Arunodoi scheme by putting up signboards outside houses.

The scheme features monthly financial assistance of ₹1,000 to the 19.1 lakh families placed below the poverty line.

Assam Congress leader Apurba Bhattacharya said, "We never took pictures of the beneficiaries but the BJP is going to the extent of putting up signboards outside their houses. It is an insult to the poor."

AAP's Assam coordinator Bhaben Choudhury also slammed the CM for dividing people. "After the BJP divided people on the lines of religion and caste, the Assam CM is now trying to divide people on the basis of rich and poor. We condemn it," Choudhury said.

Two days ago, Sarma said the logo will help in easy identification. "If a rich man has this board, nobody will marry off his or her daughter to that family. So we feel that the rich who get aid will withdraw their names. We want only the eligible to get the benefit," he said.

Pawar paves way for NCP recast, dissolves party's national body

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

AMID an ongoing political crisis in Maharashtra, Nationalist Congress Party chief Sharad Pawar dissolved his party's national body, its departments and various cells before the party's revamp aimed at its expansion ahead of the 2024 Lok Sabha and assembly polls.

NCP leader Praful Patel said there would be no change in respective state units and office-bearers.

A senior NCP leader said Sharad Pawar is set to be re-elected as the party chief. The party has no plans to replace state party chief Jayant Patil, but plans to appoint five regional working presidents from different caste groups.

"The NCP has been stamped as the party of the Marathas and a regional party predominant in the western Maharashtra region. NCP chief Sharad Pawar wants to change it by taking other prominent caste leaders on board at the national level and appointing some of them as working presidents in the state," said a senior NCP leader.

The working presidents will be from various communities that could include the OBC community, SCs and STs. "It will help NCP to expand its caste base ahead of the 2024 general election as well as the state assembly polls," said the NCP leader.

Another NCP leader said the NCP's membership drive was on and it would be over by this month. "The process will start to elect the new president. The Opposition space is shrinking under the BJP rule, but the NCP has to work hard not only to occupy but expand the space," he added.

Pilot meets MLAs, ignites talk about new demands

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

A closed-door meeting held earlier this week between former deputy Chief Minister Sachin Pilot and eight MLAs supporting him has sparked a buzz in the ruling Congress.

It's been almost two years since Pilot had revolted against the leadership of Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot, and was removed from the posts of deputy CM and Pradesh Congress Committee chief. The recent meeting has ignited speculation that the Pilot camp is trying to build pressure on the Congress high command to reinstate him in a senior position in the government or the organisation.

The meeting, held on Monday, was attended by former Assembly speaker Deepender Singh Shekhawat, Indraj Gurjar, Rakesh Pareek, GR Khatana, Ved Prakash Solanki, Suresh Modi, Harish Meena and Ram Niwas Gavadia.

However, Pilot has remained mum over what was discussed in the meeting.

Meanwhile, G S Dotasara, who replaced Pilot as PCC president, has been unable to form his team in various districts, fuelling further speculation about Pilot's future. As per sources, given the fact that Assembly poll is to be held in the state after a year-and-a-half, Pilot has started eyeing the state Congress chief's post now.

RJD ex-MLA Anant Singh gets 10 yrs in jail under Arms Act

ENS @ Patna

TROUBLE for former RJD MLA Anant Kumar Singh alias Chhote Sarkar deepened on Thursday when he was awarded 10 years' imprisonment in yet another case lodged under the Arms Act. The latest case relates to the recovery of six magazines of Insas rifle and a foreign-made bulletproof jacket from his bungalow in 2015.

The MP/MLA court in Patna had last week held Singh guilty in connection with the case pertaining to recoveries made by the police from his residence under the Secretariat Police Station in the state capital during a raid on June 24, 2015. The court had fixed July 21 as the date of pronouncement of judgment.

Busted MP terror unit has Bihar links

Bhopal: A suspected module of terror group Jamaat-ul-Mujahodeen Bangladesh, which was busted with the arrest of four men from Bhopal in March, had connections in Bihar too, the National Investigation Agency (NIA) has found. The NIA, which had taken over the case from the MP Police in April, on Wednesday arrested a man from Bihar's East Champaran district for having links with the module. Meanwhile, state's home minister Narottam Mishra said the National Security Act would be invoked against the 13 men who had allegedly attacked local Bajrang Dal functionary Ayush Jadam on Wednesday in Agar-Malwa district over supporting suspended BJP leader Nupur Sharma. ENS

'Terror suspects planned conference'

Patna: The arrest of terror suspects belonging to the Phulwarisharif module has provided shocking revelations to the security agencies, including their plan to hold a conference in Patna under the banner of the Popular Front of India (PFI). Police said two module members — Athar Parvez, allegedly an ex-member of the banned Students' Islamic Movement of India (SIMI) and Arman Malik — disclosed during interrogation that the conference was scheduled to be held in July itself. Police also say the nabbed suspects have revealed that 1,000 people from Bihar, Jharkhand, West Bengal, Tamil Nadu and Kerala were expected to attend the event. ENS

India a trusted & increasingly important partner of Canada, says envoy Mackay

BALA CHAUHAN @ Bengaluru

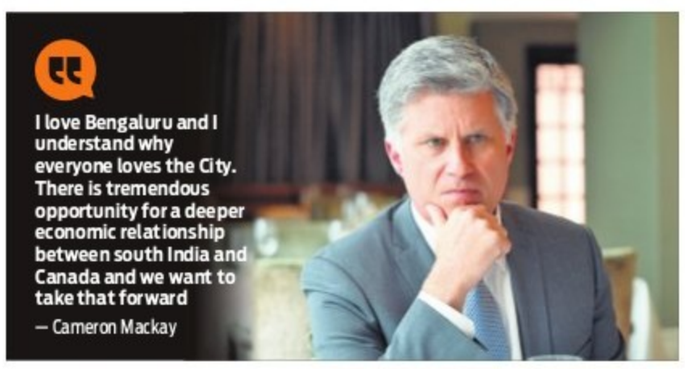
INDIA and Canada have longstanding bilateral relations, with Canada having the largest Indian diaspora in the world on a per capita basis.

The trade and investment negotiations between the two countries, which made no progress for almost a decade, are now beginning to thaw with a joint statement released by them in March this year stating that they are looking to finalise a Comprehensive Economic Partnership Agreement (CEPA) or an Early Progress Trade Agreement (EPTA).

India and Canada had launched negotiations towards CEPA in 2010. However, no headway was made even after more than a decade of talks.

"Canada is looking forward to deepening our ties with trusted partners like India. We have relaunched trade and investment negotiations after more than 10 years of fruitless talks. The trade ministers from both sides met in March this year and since then, we have made more progress than in the previous 10 years. With political will and creativity on the part of the negotiators we can get a deal," the Canadian High Commissioner to India, Cameron Mackay told TNIE in an exclusive interview during his visit to Bengaluru this week.

He added that the trade and investment agreements between the two governments will open the doors to more business deals, mutually beneficial to both the countries.



I love Bengaluru and I understand why everyone loves the City. There is tremendous opportunity for a deeper economic relationship between south India and Canada and we want to take that forward
— Cameron Mackay

"The Can$100b partnership (including bilateral merchandise, services and investment trade) should and could be much bigger if we can liberalise trade and investment. The third round of negotiations are making progress but it will take more time," he said.

With the Covid-19 pandemic disrupting supply chains across the globe in an unprecedented way, businesses around the world are now looking at making supply chains more resilient. "India has always been an important partner for Canada, and now, is an increasingly important partner for us. India is Canada's largest source country across every category of immigration including over 2,17,000 students. We are processing thousands of visa applications for Indians every week and we are still having trouble keeping up pace. We ask for patience from our Indian clients. We are working very hard to clear the backlog in the coming months," said Mackay.

When asked about Canada's stand on the Khalistan issue, which has been the bone of contention between the two countries, the High Commissioner said that Canada "supports the sovereignty and territorial integrity of India. Sometimes, between two countries of the size of India and Canada, there can be irritants. It is important that we manage these irritants respectfully and diplomatically and that is what we are doing."

He also spoke about Canada's partnership with India on climate change. "We have an important partnership to fight climate change. The two big areas of co-operation are in research and development in science and technology and development of clean energy. Our two environment ministries have signed an MoU. Both agree that Canada and India can do more together in fighting climate change. Out of the Can$70b portfolio investments in India, several billion Can$ investments are in renewable energy and clean technology. We cooperate closely on polar research. Later this year, Indian polar scientists will visit the Canadian High Arctic Research Station (CHARS), where we have leading polar researchers," added the Canadian diplomat.

Canada is now looking south of Vindhyas for greater trade and business opportunities in information & communications technology (ICT), aerospace, climate change, environment, electric vehicles, life sciences etc, in Bengaluru. Mackay met with Karnataka Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai and called it a productive meeting. "The Canadian companies and Canadian controlled companies in Bengaluru employ around six lakh people. We would like to see those numbers and trade and business opportunities multiply multifold," he said.

Gunewardena tipped to be next Lankan PM

COLOMBO

SRI Lanka's new President Ranil Wickremesinghe will swear in his Cabinet on Friday comprising members of the previous government including Dinesh Gunewardena, a close ally of the Rajapaksa family, who is tipped to be the next prime minister.

The previous Cabinet will function till a national government is agreed upon once Parliament convenes and then a Cabinet reshuffle will take place.

According to the sources, Leader of the House in the Sri Lankan Parliament 73-year-old Gunewardena is tipped to be the prime minister. He was appointed as Home Minister in April by then President Gotabaya Rajapaksa.

A stalwart of Sri Lankan politics, Gunawardena has also served as the foreign minister and education minister.

Officials said Wickremesinghe would try to appoint an all-party government.

Wickremesinghe, a six-time former prime minister, was elected by lawmakers on Wednesday, in a rare move that could provide continuity for crucial discussions with the IMF for a bailout deal for the cash-strapped nation.

He secured 134 votes in the 225-member House while his nearest rival and dissident ruling party leader Dullas Alahapperuma got 82. Leftist Janatha Vimukthi Peramuna leader Anura Kumara Dissanayake secured just three votes.

Meanwhile, a group of protesters who had camped opposite the prime minister's official residence since April end, said they were ending the protest. 'There was a debate that we should respect the Constitution and stop this protest," a spokesman for the group said.

However, the main protest group which had camped blocking the entry to the President's Office since April 9, said they would continue their struggle till Wickremesinghe resigned.

"Our victory would come only when we are able to form the people's Assembly," Lahiru Weerasekera, a spokesman for the group said.

Wickremesinghe told reporters that he intends taking legal action against those who continue to occupy the President's Office. Wickremesinghe said he would extend support to the peaceful protesters but would be tough on those who try to promote violence in the guise of peaceful protests.

Wickremesinghe on Thursday visited the Ministry of Defence as his first visit to a government institution since being elected. He will have a mandate to serve out the rest of Rajapaksa's term, which ends in November 2024. PTI

Power outage stops swearing-in ceremony

A power outage in the Sri Lankan Parliament complex stopped the live broadcast of President Ranil Wickremesinghe's swearing-in ceremony, forcing authorities to launch an investigation by the Criminal Investigations Department into the incident, the Colombo Page web portal report said on Thursday. The live broadcast stopped after the President entered the Parliament complex on the red carpet, the report added

Rishi Sunak: I will lead as a Thatcherite

LONDON

RISHI Sunak has vowed to work night and day as he embarked upon the final and toughest stretch of his campaign on Thursday to win over the Conservative Party membership to be elected party leader and British Prime Minister.

"I will work night and day to deliver our message around the country," said Sunak. He used a column in The Daily Telegraph to soften some of the harsh rhetoric of the live television debates by saying he likes and respects his opponent after they clashed bitterly over key policy issues, specifically taxes.

While Truss has pledged to cut taxes from day one, the former finance minister has held firm on cutting inflation as a priority. The battle lines are drawn even as both candidates model themselves on former Tory Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher.

"My values are Thatcherite. I believe in hard work, family and integrity. I am a Thatcherite, I am running as a Thatcherite and I will govern as a Thatcherite," writes Sunak.

"I believe in national sovereignty...The primacy of economic growth. That this can only be achieved on a foundation of low inflation and sound public finances. And the best way to achieve economic growth is cutting taxes and bureaucracy, and boosting private sector investment and innovation," he writes.

Former finance minister Rishi Sunak

The focus of the next six weeks of hustings, which begin in Leeds next Thursday before 11 others traversing different parts of the UK, will be on drumming down this message.

The Conservative Campaign Headquarters (CCHQ) said Tory members are expected to receive postal ballots by August 5 and members will have until 1700 local time on September 2 to submit their ballots to be counted, with the result of the ballot will be announced on September 5.

The winner of this latest contest is due to face British voters in 2024, unless she or he chooses to call an early general election. While Sunak has pitched himself as best placed to defeat Opposition Labour Leader Keir Starmer at polls, the Labour Party has said they would be happy to take on either of the two candidates as stooges in Johnson's government. PTI

Italy's Mario quits, trouble for nation

ROME

ITALIAN Premier Mario Draghi resigned Thursday after his ruling coalition fell apart, dealing a destabilising blow to the country and Europe at a time of severe economic uncertainty.

The turmoil couldn't have come at a worse time for the eurozone's third-largest economy. Like many countries, Italy is facing soaring prices as a result of Moscow's invasion. It is also suffering through a prolonged drought that is threatening crops.

Any instability in Italy could ripple out to the rest of Europe and deprive the EU of a respected statesman as it seeks to keep up a united front against Russia.

Draghi, who is not a politician but a former central banker, was brought in 17 months ago to navigate the economic downturn caused by pandemic. But his government of national unity imploded after members of his coalition of right, left and populists rebuffed his appeal to band back together to finish the Italian Parliament's natural term.

Instead, the center-right Forza Italia and League parties and the populist 5-Star Movement boycotted a confidence vote in the Senate, a clear sign they were done with Draghi.

While he could not keep his fractious coalition together, Draghi appeared to still have support among the Italian public, many of whom have taken to the streets or signed open letters to plead with him to stay on.

Draghi's presence helped reassure financial markets about the debt-laden nation's public finances, and he managed to keep the country on track with economic reforms that the EU made a condition of its 200 billion-euro pandemic recovery package. AP

After 75 years, Indian woman returns to Pak ancestral home

ISLAMABAD

CHILDHOOD memories flooded 90-year-old Reena Chhibber Varma's mind and she became overjoyed and emotional as she visited her home in Pakistan, which she had to leave 75 years ago at the time of the Partition.

Pune-based Varma's long-cherished dream of visiting her ancestral home in Rawalpindi materialised when Pakistan granted her a three-month visa and she arrived in Lahore on July 16 via the Wagah-Attari border.

On reaching Prem Nawas Mahalla on Wednesday, the residents in the neighbourhood gave her a rousing welcome. Drums were played and flower petals were showered on her. Varma could not control herself and kept dancing.

Varma, who left for India when she was only 15, went to every room on the second floor of her ancestral home and refreshed her memories. She sang while standing on the balcony and cried remembering her childhood.

Varma said that she did not feel she was from another country, the Pakistani media on Thursday quoted her as saying. PTI

KARTI ASKS SFIO TO PROBE BYJU'S FINANCES

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

BYJU'S, which is the world's most valuable edtech start-up, has been in the news for all the wrong reasons. On Thursday, Member of Parliament Karti P Chidambaram said he has written to the Serious Fraud Investigation Office (SFIO), a fraud regulator, urging them to launch an investigation into the finances of the edtech behemoth.

He raised three key issues - Missing ₹2,500 in the company's funding, BYJU'S has not received ₹1,200 crore funding from Oxshott Capital Partners and delay in filing its audit report.

"At a time when BYJU'S proposes to expand its business and acquire Nasdaq-listed company 2U at valuation of $2.4 billion, while parallelly firing employees to cut costs, it becomes pertinent to review the company's finances," he said.

In March this year, the edtech giant raised $800 million from Sumeru Ventures, Vitruvian Partners and BlackRock. As part of this fund raise, Byju Raveendran, Founder and CEO of BYJU'S, made a personal investment of $400 million.

Of the total $800 million funding, Sumeru Ventures and Oxshott Capital have not transferred $250 million. While Sumeru Ventures didn't respond to an email sent by TNIE, BYJU'S spokesperson attributed the delays to "macro-economic reasons". The spokesperson added that it expects the remainder of the capital to arrive by the end of August.

Chidambaram also pointed out news reports and said, "Oxshott Capital Partners is said to have made an investment of ₹1,200 crore in BYJU'S. Nine months on and BYJU'S has confirmed that it has not yet received this funding from the investor." If it completes $800 million funding, the company would be valued at $22 billion. Oxshott is a little-known firm, and it is reported that till date it has made one investment in BYJU'S.

Apart from layoffs, BYJU'S is yet to file its financial results. Earlier, the company had delayed payments to shareholders of tuition chain Aakash Educational Services that it acquired for $1 billion last year. Later, on July 4, the company spokesperson said, ""Our payments to Aakash are closed and the audited financial results are going to be announced in the next 10 days." According to recent reports, many edtech companies in India including BYJU'S have been pulled up for mis-selling.

Can't charge for boarding pass: Govt

Move likely to bring relief for passengers who fail to do web check-ins or use kiosks at airports

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

AIRLINES can't charge any additional fee for issuing a boarding pass at check-in counters in airports, aviation ministry said in an advisory on Thursday.

Currently, airlines charge about ₹200 as fees if a passenger seeks a boarding pass at the check-in counter.

"It has come to the notice of the Ministry of Civil Aviation that airlines are charging additional amount from passengers for issuing boarding passes at check-in counters. Such additional amount is not in accordance with the instructions given in the aforesaid order or as per the extant provisions of Aircraft Rules, 1937," the advisory said.

This move is likely to bring relief for passengers who for some reasons fail to do web check-ins or use kiosks at the airports. According to a senior executive at an airline, this kind of diktat is not a very welcoming move as they have to deploy people/persons specifically for issuing boarding passes, hence charging for this service should not be called anti-consumer practice. "This move, moreover, may discourage people to be fully ready for their flight by opting for free-of-cost web check-in service. It may also lead to long queues at the boarding pass counter and increase workload of airlines' staff," he said. The advisory is issued at a time when air tickets have seen a drastic rise amid record rise in jet fuel prices. Airfare in most busy routes is up by nearly 50% in the last one year and this has now started weighing on general passengers' ability to book a flight ticket. "The government should now provide relief to airlines by reducing taxes on ATF. They should also remove the fare bands (currently applicable on a 15-day rolling basis), which have been in place since the onset of the pandemic in different forms," the official said.

Gautam Adani now 4th richest in world, richer than Bill Gates

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

Gautam Adani, Asia's richest man and chairman of Adani Group, has now become the fourth richest person in the world, overtaking the wealth of Microsoft co-founder Bill Gates with an estimated wealth of $116.3 billion on Thursday, as per the Forbes' Real-Time Billionaires List.

Gates, who for years have held the title of being the world's wealthiest person, slipped to fifth position in the billionaire list with an estimated wealth of $104.7 billion.

The number 1 title in the list is held by Tesla's Elon Musk ($248.7 billion, followed by LVMH's Bernard Arnault ($156.5 billion) and Amazon's Jeff Bezos ($148.8 billion). RIL's Mukesh Ambani was in the 10th position in the list with a fortune of $90 billion.

Adani's rise to being one of the world's wealthiest has been eye-catching. In just two years, his personal fortune rose from about $9 billion in 2020 to $90 billion in 2022, as per Forbes' data. In the calendar year 2022 so far, he has possibly added more billions to his wealth than any other billionaire in the world. As per Bloomberg Billionaire Index, Adani has added over $34 billion to his fortune in 2022 so far. In this index, Adani's wealth, pegged at $111 billion, is $5 billion short of Bill Gates' wealth, pegged at $116 billion. In recent trading sessions, Adani Group stocks has seen strong buying as it continuous to expand aggressively.

Health insurers allowed to choose hospital network

DIPAK MONDAL @ New Delhi

IN a significant move, the insurance regulator has allowed health insurers to expand their network of cashless hospitals beyond the list of hospitals that is maintained by the Insurance Information Bureau (IIB).

This move, according to the insurance industry, would make it easier for customers to choose from the best hospitals in their locality.

In a circular issued recently the Insurance Regulatory and Development Authority of India (IRDAI) said in order to enhance the scope for offering cashless facility across the length and breadth of the country, the insurers are now empowered to empanel the network providers that meet the standards and benchmarks criteria as specified by their respective boards. The regulator requires the insurers to publish on its website the board-approved empanelment criteria from time to time. Earlier, only those hospitals that were part of the IIB's Registry of Hospitals in the Network of Insurers (ROHINI) could be empanelled in the network of hospitals for cashless facility. "This announcement by the IRDAI is a significant development that liberates the health insurance providers to broaden their spectrum of healthcare network, enabling dual benefit of deeper insurance penetration besides encouraging seamlessness in customer experience," says Sanjay Datta, chief, underwriting officer, Reinsurance, claims & actuarial at ICICI Lombard General Insurance.

According to Sanjiv Bajaj, Joint Chairman & MD, Bajaj Capital, the move will enable customers to not only get quality healthcare with their health insurance policy, but also get cashless treatment at their preferred network hospital. The cashless feature allows an insured person to receive treatment at any network hospital without worrying about paying bills.

GoM on GSTAT to meet for first time on Jul 26

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

THE Group of Ministers (GoM) on GST Appellate Tribunal (GSTAT), headed by Haryana Deputy Chief Minister Dushyant Chautala, will hold its first meeting on July 26 to discuss required amendments in the law for setting up of tribunals at the state and national level, as per sources.

The panel has to submit its report to the GST Council by July 31. The other members of the GoM include Andhra Pradesh Finance Minister Buggana Rajendranath, Goa Industries Minister Mauvin Godinho, Rajasthan Law and Legal Affairs Minister Shanti Kumar Dhariwal, Uttar Pradesh Finance Minister Suresh Khanna and Odisha Finance Minister Niranjan Pujari.

Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman during the 47th GST Council meet in June had announced about the formation of GoM to address various issues raised by the states related to the constitution of GSTAT.

GSTATs were notified by the government just after the GST law came into effect but the process couldn't move further due to Madras High Court's stay on the issue of the number of technical members in the tribunal.

The court was of the view that the number of technical members must not exceed the number of judicial members. This issue will be taken up in the meeting besides other issues like amendments in the Central GST Act.

However, since this year, the market has rebounded from two years of Covid-19 setback; with that, we observed a tremendous seasonal hiring demand across the industry," said Janadri.

As per the index, demand for gig workers has risen across Fintech (up 14%) and e-commerce (up 11%) sectors, with firms like Epay, Amazon pay, Amazon, and Flipkart driving the highest job opportunities in the past one month. The percentage has increased given the upcoming Great Indian Sales and Prime Day Sales on Amazon and Flipkart. Inflation to stay at elevated levels: Puri

WHILE there will be some moderation, for some time, inflation will continue to remain at elevated levels from what it was in the past, ITC Chairman Sanjiv Suri said addressing a virtual press meet on Thursday.

"As far as commodity prices are concerned, there is some cooling off for sure but to predict the outlook is difficult as multiple factors are at play. However, whenever savings are there, that will be passed on to the consumers," Puri said, adding that the situation is fairly dynamic and one has to constantly monitor it.

Talking about consumer demand recovery, Puri said that at a larger industry level, as far as agriculture, hotels, paperboard and packaging is concerned, the demand for the industry is robust. However, he said, as far as FMCG is concerned, there are demand concerns arising out of inflation and there is more value-seeking behavior. He added, out of home categories are doing better as compared to earlier with economic activities having been completely normalised.

Puri hinted on a possible demerger of the hotel business during the press conference, saying, "Now that there are indications of industry on a positive trajectory, it is very much on the table." The company operates 113 properties under its hotel business.

The company has also launched ITCMAARS (Meta Market for Advanced Agricultural Services) to bring in the benefits of state of the art digital technologies to farmers.

"The newly launched super-app ITCMAARS is designed to provide maximum support to marginal farmers at their doorsteps, to give them the benefits of the best in technology and access to markets," said Puri.

After 3 years, shares of ITC hit ₹300 level

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

AFTER showing least movement in the last year's bull-run, calendar year 2022 clearly belongs to ITC shareholders.

Shares of cigarette to hotel conglomerate on Thursday surpassed the Rs 300 mark for the first time in three years amid overall positive sentiment in the market.

ITC stock on Thursday intraday trading hit a fresh 52-week high of ₹302.2 and closed 0.47% higher at ₹299.50 against the previous close of ₹298.10 on BSE. ITC shares have gained 45.5% in the last one year and in 2022 alone, it has surged 38%.

In contrast, BSE FMCG Index has gained 11.36% in 2022 and benchmark BSE Sensex has corrected by around 6%. If market analysts are to be believed, the stock may witness more buying as it may even breach the Rs 350-level. Brokerage firm Centrum Broking had earlier assigned a buy call on ITC stock with a target price of Rs 351 while Motilal Oswal last month gave a target price of ₹335.

Ravi Singhal, CEO at GCL Securities, has advised ITC shareholders to hold the counter for short-term target of ₹340, while maintaining a strict trailing stop loss at ₹265 apiece levels. Singhal also suggested that one can buy ITC shares at current levels and keep on accumulating till ₹275 levels.

Ravi Singh, vice-president and head of Research, Share India, said the stock is potentially stronger than peers due to its robust recovery in cigarette and hotel business and cost optimisation. "On technical setup, the counter is in a strong bullish trend by major momentum indicators. Investors may hold their positions for a target of ₹325 in the near term," said Singh.

Rahul tests Covid positive, doubtful for WI T20Is

KL Rahul tested positive for Covid-19, which is likely to rule him out of the upcoming five-match T20 series against the West Indies, starting July 29. BCCI president Sourav Ganguly informed about Rahul after the Board's Apex Council meeting. He also informed that a member of the CWG-bound India women's team was also down with Covid-19.

Full-fledged domestic calendar back

After pandemic-induced gap of two years, BCCI Apex Council meeting takes call, Ranji Trophy to be held from December

VENKATA KRISHNA B @Chennai

THE return of a full-fledged Ranji Trophy is the highlight of India's domestic calendar which was formalised at the Board of Control for Cricket in India's (BCCI) Apex Council meeting in Mumbai on Thursday. With the country returning to normalcy after the pandemic, the BCCI has included even age-group tournaments in the calendar.

At the meeting, the BCCI has also picked the venues for India's two home series against Australia and South Africa. The T20Is against Australia will be held in Mohali, Nagpur and Hyderabad on September 20, 23 and 25 respectively.

The T20Is against South Africa will begin on September 28 at Thiruvanathapuram before the action moves to Guwahati (October 1) and Indore (October 3). With the World Cup beginning on October 16, there is a strong likelihood the T20 team will depart for Australia before ODI leg. Ranchi, Lucknow and Delhi will host the ODIs from October 6-11.

Meanwhile, the Duleep Trophy, which hasn't been held since 2019-20, will kickstart India's domestic season on September 8 and will run till September 25. The Irani Cup, last held in the 2018-19 season, also makes a return with Ranji champions Madhya Pradesh taking on Rest of India in a five-day contest from October 1.

Duleep Trophy: Sep 8-25
Ranji Trophy: Dec 13-Feb 28

The Senior Women will also play in inter-zonal T20s (Nov 8-15) for the first time before featuring in the Senior Women's T20 Challenger Trophy from November 20-26. Women's One-day Trophy will begin on January 18 and end on February 7. All eyes will be on the India 'A' men's team comprising of Vidit Gujrathi, P Harikrishna, Arjun Erigaisi, SL Narayanan, K Sasikiran. They have an average rating of 2696. They will start as the third seeds in the Open section and will be coached by GM Srinath Narayanan. He is excited to captain the Indian team in his home town and is confident of a good show by his wards. Excerpts of an interview:

How excited are you on Chennai hosting the Chess Olympiad?
It is definitely one of the biggest moments in my career. All the players are training and keen to well for the country as the event is being played at home.

How is to be captain of the first Indian team?
It is a great feeling. Given my skill sets, I feel that this is the best way I can contribute to the country. Really honoured and excited about the opportunity.

How productive was the training camp with Viswanathan Anand and Boris Gelfand?
The camp with Anand and Gelfand was very useful and we saw the results instantly in Harikrishna's next event in Prague Masters. The value such legends bring in terms of their abundance of knowledge cannot be described in words.

India won a historic bronze in the Open section of 2014 Olympiad. Can India better their Tromso performance?
As I said earlier, we are preparing well for the event. We are optimistic that India can do well in the Olympiad and even better than what they did last time (in Tromso).

Can you elaborate the role of being a team captain?
It means you get to work with some of the best players in the world. It gives you an opportunity to watch and train them at close quarters. It serves as an opportunity to groom some young talent.

Which team is the favourite to win in the Open section?
USA start as favourites, on paper. They have some top players, but you never know.

Do you think having Magnus Carlsen will create more excitement?
You do not get to see the World No 1 in action very often. Plus after his announcement that he will not defend his world title, people will like all the more to see him action.

How happy are you on having three of your students in the team?
I am very very proud to see how far they have grown. Really happy for them.

Will there be pressure of playing at home?
There will definitely be pressure, but there will be advantages of the home support as well, which will make a lot of differences in bringing a positive feeling within the group.

Taipei Open: Twin delight for Tanisha

TAIPEI: Tanisha Crasto entered quarterfinals of women's doubles and mixed doubles at the Taipei Open Super 300 tournament. P Kashyap also reached the last eight round. Tanisha and Ishaan Bhatnagar beat Chinese Taipei's Cheng Kai Wen and Wang Yu Qiao 21-14, 21-17 in the mixed doubles. She then combined with Shruti Mishra to beat Jia Yin Lin and Lin Yu-Hao 21-14, 21-8 in a doubles.

Nagal returns to Indian Davis Cup team

NEW DELHI: Sumit Nagal made a comeback to the Indian Davis Cup team for the away World Group I tie against Norway while doubles specialist Divij Sharan was dropped. Ramkumar Ramanathan, Prajnesh Gunneswaran, Sasikumar Mukund, Yuki Bhambri, doubles exponent Rohan Bopanna have been named in the team. Of the six players, one would be named a reserve by captain Rohit Rajpal after assessing conditions in Norway and it will be a five-member unit that will compete on September 16 and 17.

Chance for fringe players to make an impression

With most of the India regulars sitting out, the ODI leg of the white-ball series against West Indies is an ideal setting to test their bench strength.

INDIA'S BATTING
With the likes of Sanju Samson, Deepak Hooda and one out of Ishan Kishan or Ruturaj Gaikwad expected to feature, a good performance from any of them could catapult them in the eyes of the selectors. At this point, Hooda, coming off an impressive series against Ireland, leads the pack but the next week may change that.

JADEJA'S BOWLING FORM
While his red-ball bowling remains strong, Ravindra Jadeja's form in the white-ball is concerning. Almost like he has forgotten the art of picking wickets. He can still be played as a batting all-rounder but the management will like him to do more than what he's doing at the moment.

PROBLEMS FOR WEST INDIES
In the wider picture, like most bilaterals, this series makes little sense outside of broadcast money (it's not even part of the Super League). But for the hosts, it's an opportunity to correct a lot of wrongs. They have lost their last six on the bounce. Time to arrest that trend.
